Serious Boiler Explosion. - The boiler of a ten-horse-power traction engine exploded on the yard of Mr. Walter S. Trew, in Quaker Neck, on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Trew, with a number of hands had been engaged in sawing wood, the engine being placed within about twenty feet of his kitchen. The boiler was full of water, the fire had bean allowed to burn low and the men were at dinner, when a fearful explosion was heard. The scalding water struck the side of the kitchen last. with great force, a piece of grating struck and barked a tree fifty feet away, and the meat house, about twenty feet from where the engine stood was knocked fully six feet from its foundation by the force of the concussion. An irregular hole about ten inches square was blown out, under the boiler, near the fire box. The cause of the explosion is unknown, but had the force of men been at work at the time i cocurred the results would have been of a

HENRY S. COOK,

POSITIVE CLEARING SALE.

E. W. F. SIMPERS, + Front St., Chestertown, Md., Opposite Stam's Opera House. 1st.—At this season of the year I have too many winter goods on the shelves. They must go. The in prices for the next two weeks means our loss and your gain. 2d.—We call special attention to our line of CROCKERYWARE, probably the most complete line, and best assortment in the county. Sets of dishes at moderate cost, and a general assortment of Crock-eryware to please most any one.

3d.—HOSIERY, BLANKETS, SHIRTS and GLOVES constitute a very important part of our general stock, and the low prices figure conspicuously. Pon't forget this department.

4th.—Best of all—OUR GROCFRY DEPARTMENT is now a household word. Everycause it came from E. W. F. Simpers'. The Sugar-Cured Hams are always what you want, Flour in the means everything sold in a Grocery store, consequently it is useless to itemize every article. What about the prices? They are all right. Never higher than others, but sometimes a little less. Two weeks later
